

CHIROPRACTOR

Q

Have you ever had anyone tell you they don't believe in chiropractic?

ANSWER: This is something I have never understood. Chiropractic is not a belief process. It's a fact CHIROPRACTIC WORKS!!! This is documented by more peer reviewed journals than I can list. It comes down to anatomy and physiology. If a joint loses its range of motion, it starts the inflammatory and degenerative process. This will cause everything from localized pain to radiating pain, loss of muscle strength, arthritis and many other problems. The next time you have pain, go see a chiropractor and don't listen to anyone that says they don't believe in chiropractic. Chiropractic is included in almost every insurance policy. If it didn't work, your insurance company would not cover it. Insurance companies do not cover experimental procedures as many of you may already know. Chiropractic is not a belief process. It's a fact – CHIROPRACTIC WORKS!!!
